PROFILE
Self-driven Nigerian software developer working across frontend and backend engineering. Interested in backend systems, programming languages, systems architecture and product development; enjoys turning unconventional ideas into working software and exploring AI engineering.

Selected projects

PlainScript FLAGSHIP · PROGRAMMING LANGUAGE & COMPILER
Intent-oriented language and deterministic compiler that translates PlainScript to JavaScript. Distributed on npm as plainscript-lang designed for browser and backend development.
Source repository ↗ · npm package ↗

Renew PAUSED / EXPERIMENTAL
Artificial-life simulation exploring embodied intelligence, persistent memory, autonomous behaviour, survival and interaction in a virtual world. It remains a paused research and engineering experiment, not a completed product or active development effort.

Experience & contributions

Independent Software Developer
Independent software development across the stack, from idea exploration through implementation.

Open-Source Contributor · Tabbycat
Technical contribution involving backend validation, implementation improvements and testing.
